Teaching Strategies

All early years practitioners, regardless of their level of qualification, should be trained to routinely use a wide range of teaching strategies during their daily work and interactions with children. Many practitioners use teaching strategies naturally and are often unaware that they are using them. Once formally introduced to the requirement to plan to use teaching strategies practitioners will draw on their innate skills and begin to actively plan to implement a wider range of teaching strategies to the benefit of the children they care for and educate.

strategies to the benefit of the children they care for and educate.
Interactions	Interactions	Interactions	Modelling	Communication -
Pedagogical	Social	- Activity	Language	Verbal and Non-verbal Based
Explaining	Demonstrating	Exploring	Encouragement	Setting
		Ideas		Challenges
Questioning	Recalling	Assessing	Reflecting	Problem Solving
				Joiving

For further information visit us on www.futureworks-education.co.uk